CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

Skill preparation and planning for health care transition for children and youth with special health care needs is inadequate. Less than 50 percent of families nationwide indicate that their children with special health care needs have received the services necessary to make appropriate transitions to adult health care, work, and independence. One of the major hurdles to receiving this care is the lack of a workforce, including physicians, nurses, social workers, mental health providers and all who provide services to youth and young adults with special health care needs trained to provide the services necessary to make the health care transition. There is a strong need for physicians to have the knowledge and skills to provide the services needed to facilitate a successful transition from pediatric to adult-based care and services.

Because of increased awareness of transitioning to adult-based care, clinicians are required to update their knowledge of the changing strategies for integrating emerging adult-based care into practice.

For all conference participants, there will be a discussion of the legal issues involved in health care transition, as well as time to meet and talk with faculty in small groups, to exchange ideas among participants, and to share knowledge and information about how best to plan for a successful transition to adulthood.

TARGET AUDIENCE

Physicians in internal medicine, family practice, pediatrics, psychiatry, and physiatry; other health care providers including psychologists, social workers, nurses, dietitians, case managers, counselors, and primary care providers; and youth and young adults who have a chronic illness or disability and their parents or guardians.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of the conference, participants should be able to:

- Describe strategies for setting up and evaluating a transition program
- Describe models of care for transitioning youth with medical complexity
- Discuss the current state of HCT from pediatric to adult based care
- Describe the non-medical aspects of care, such as formal planning related to HCT for families of AYASHCN
- Describe the legal issues associated with transition from pediatric to adult-based care

EDUCATIONAL METHODS
